MM

WORLD OCEANS DAY is June 8...visit the informational table on the beach, near the main restrooms, to learn what sea level rise, ocean acidification could mean here plus steps we each can take...County of Marin's Planning Department will show us dramatically what could be at peril...10 - 1 pm.

DIPSEA RACE...is June 11 this year! check out www.dipsea.org for film clips, past high points!

VOLUNTEER! Rosa Schneider, OneTam stewardship coordinator reports: Our workdays have typically been on the first Saturday of the month but will likely be shifting to the third / fourth Saturdays starting in June. We won't be out there this month (May) with volunteers, but keep an eye on onetam.org/calendar.

PROJECT UPDATE Accessible facility Project is 95% complete: boardwalk opened earlier this week! North bathrooms are open as well as central and south if needed.

JUNIOR LIFEGUARD PROGRAM Jesse Peri and Jennifer Glazier will be running the Junior Lifeguard program together this year. Jesse began working this week and Jen will start on May 14th. The Junior Lifeguard phone number is (415) 855-5029, and the website, <https://www.nps.gov/goga/learn/kidsyouth/teens.htm> will be updated by next week.

EASKOOT CREEK Stinson Beach residents and resource managers in Marin are actively discussing strategies for a healthier, better functioning Easkoot Creek. They've been watching effectiveness of past measures, working on weed removal and seeking next steps. Discussion was shared recently with Stinson Flood Control Board and will continue this spring.

WHALES thar she blows...watch for humpbacks, grey whales and other surprises during spring migration north!
